

VOTERS FACED BY DIVERGENT IDEAS IN OHIO

Republicans Boast of Accomplishments Which Are Ridiculed By Democrats.

CAMPAIGN IS HOT

All Candidates Come In For Share of Speech-making.

BY C. H. HADDOX.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29.—Voters of Ohio were confronted with two widely divergent views of state and national administrations today as they attempted to decide for whom they will cast their ballots at the forthcoming election, which is only seven days away.

On the one side—the Republican—is painted the picture of the achievements of administrations of President Herbert Hoover and Governor Myers Y. Cooper.

On the other side—the Democratic—these very same administrations are being held up for ridicule and vicious attacks.

"With his customary prodigality in distributing pre-election promises, Governor Cooper now appeals for votes on the pledge that jobs will be provided by the simple expedient of spending millions of dollars," said George White, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, in an address at Jackson. Attorney William Pickrel, Dayton, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, told the same audience that the issue this year is "economy in government." He said the present state administration had increased the operating costs of state government about $5,000,000.

Declaring that a protective tariff and restrictive immigration are necessary for the protection of the American markets, for American-made goods, was voiced at Sandusky by United States Senator Roscoe C. McCulloch, Republican, of Canton, who seeks to retain his senatorial toga.

MCCULLOCH TALKS

"Unless we are on guard, the industrial giants across the sea, with the weapon of cheap foreign labor and American capital, will destroy the prosperity of America, will destroy the opportunities of Americans for productive effort, and hard times, want and suffering will be transferred from Europe to America," McCulloch said.

"The campaign which has been conducted throughout the state by Republicans opposing my election has consisted almost wholly of pretense and misrepresentation," asserted Robert J. Bulkley, Democratic nominee for United States senator, during an address at Cleveland.

"Some of their statements verge on the ridiculous," continued Bulkley. "For instance, when I say that the 18th amendment should be repealed, they pretend that immediately upon the repeal all the old saloons will re-open.

"This is impossible and the electorate of Ohio knows it.

"Claim is made that my election will bring up the dangers of free trade and that immediately all the customs houses will be destroyed and the industry of the nation left with no protection from foreign competition.

"This, likewise, is absurd, for they know the national platform of the Democratic party declares for a protective tariff based on the difference in cost of production at home and abroad, honestly and impartially determined," said Bulkley.

BODIES OF EIGHT MINERS ARE FOUND

McALESTER, Okla., Oct. 29.—Eight bodies of a crew of twenty-nine miners trapped in the Wheatley No. 4 coal mine by an explosion Monday night were recovered by rescue workers today.

The bodies were found at the eighteenth level of the mine and were badly burned.

The miners had been working on the sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth level indicated that the men rushed away from the force of the explosion only to perish.

The fate of the remaining 21 is a matter of conjecture. If they escaped the force of the explosion and rushed to the lower levels and closed the level doors there still is a possibility that they will be found alive, experts with the rescue crews said.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fuller, Northridge-rd, announce the birth of a son Tuesday at Berger hospital.

A representative gathering of advocates of the 18th amendment and those supporting the Volstead Act was addressed at the Memorial Hall Tuesday evening by Charles H. Hubbell, candidate for the office of judge of the supreme court, by Edwin C. Dinwiddie, D.D., superintendent of the national temperance bureau and by Lucy Van Kirk, of Granville, editor of the Ohio Messenger, state W.C.T.U. publication.

Rev. W. F. Rutherford, pastor of the United Brethren church, this city, was chairman of the meeting.

Mrs. Van Kirk was the first speaker called upon and she told of the work of the W. C. T. U. throughout the state and of its efforts to secure the election of candidates to offices who favor the present prohibition. Her talk was well-received by the assemblage.

HUBBELL ANGERED
Hubbell was then called and he elaborated on the wet and dry fight going on in the state senatorial race. Hubbell directed his statements directly against Robert J. Bulkley, Cleveland, Democratic candidate for U. S. senate.

He said, "We do not want to elect a wet Senator from Ohio, even though we feel certain that the Senate would refuse to seat him. The Senate refused to seat Frank L. Smith of Illinois and William H. Vare of Pennsylvania on account of the huge amounts spent on their campaigns. The amount of money being spent in the Bulkley campaign—that is the amount being spent personally by Mr. Bulkley, who is himself a very wealthy man, by members of his family which includes the Holdens, owners of the Hollenden Hotel and of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, and by the wet interests of the county."

BANKER RETURNS HOME UNHARMED

GALVIA, Ill., Oct. 29.—Earl L. Yocum, millionaire banker who was kidnaped Saturday night, returned to his home here today.

His wife is reported to have secured his release by payment of $50,000 ransom.

A motorist picked him up on a state road near Atkinson, about fifteen miles from here, and rushed him to Galvia. He appeared to be unharmed.

Arriving at his home, Yocum entered without granting interviews to newspapermen. The door was opened by A. L. Anderson, who is believed to have delivered the ransom to the kidnapers.

Ever since Yocum disappeared from in front of his home Saturday, Mrs. Yocum implored authorities to halt their search for the abductors in the fear that her husband would be mistreated or killed.

MURDERER OF FIVE AWAITS ARRAIGNMENT

Charles King, 38-Year-Old Hamilton Barber Confesses Killing Family.

FREE FOR A YEAR

Locked Doors Then Opened Gas Line, He Says.

HAMILTON, O., Oct. 29.—Charles King, 38-year-old barber and alleged self-confessed murderer of his wife and four small sons, was awaiting hearing today on five warrants which charge him with first degree murder. King, who was captured after a year's search, is held in the Butler-co jail here.

He was returned here yesterday from Fairport, O., where he was taken into custody by Lake-co Sheriff James Maloney.

J. C. Calhoun, Hamilton chief of police, announced last night that King had confessed to him that he killed his wife and four children in their home here Oct. 23, 1929 by asphyxiation.

STAYED WITH FRIENDS
The victims were Mrs. Ethel King, 32; Robert, 14; Leon, 12; Paul, 10; and Keith, 5. Charles Jr., 7, was the only child to escape. He has been living with friends here since the night his father disappeared following the wholesale slaying.

Chief Calhoun said that King confessed to him that he locked the doors of his home, uncrewed a cap from the main gas line, after the family had gone to bed, and then boarded a train for Lima where he stayed over night.

The allegedly confessed killer said, according to the police head, that he committed the murder because his wife was untrue to him and because he was heavily in debt and had been "hounded" by his creditors.

It was said that the barber wandered around Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Pennsylvania for several months. When he thought "things were quieted down," according to the asserted confession, he went to Fairport, where he was captured.

The asphyxiation killings attracted nation-wide attention and police throughout the country joined in the intensive search for the slayer. It was said that King had left a note in his home which stated that he had committed the murders because he was poor. He added: "Don't look for me. I've gone with Ethel and the boys."

King's alleged confession came after hours of grilling by police officers and detectives. He protested for several hours that he knew nothing of the murder. He said his name was J. W. Thomas and that he couldn't understand why he was being held.

He was identified last night by Leo King, a brother, and he then broke down under the severe questioning. He seemed relieved as he told his story indifferently.

BANKER SLAIN BY GANGSTERS

Ambushed and Murdered; Jeweler Is Robbed of Gems Valued at $40,000.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Two major crimes in which a bank executive was ambushed and fatally wounded and a jeweler held up and robbed of $40,000 in uninsured diamonds challenged Chicago authorities today in their war on organized crime.

Two gunmen leaped upon Courtney R. Merrill, vice president of the Union State Bank of South Chicago last night, stabbed him and fled without trying to complete their attempted robbery. The banker died from his wounds.

The two bandits surprised the banker in the rear of the bank of which he is an executive. Before the banker could respond two shots were fired, both of which went wide. When Merrill grappled with the nearest gunman the other plunged a knife into his back twice. Both fled.

Two gunmen held up Max Pian, Chicago jeweler, and robbed him of a bag of jewels worth $40,000. The robbery occurred a few feet north of the Wisconsin state line near Zion City Ill. where the bandits blocked the road with their car and forced Pian to give up the gems. Although the jeweler offered no resistance one of the robbers slugged him. The bandit pair then fled toward Chicago.

Pian was driving alone to Milwaukee.

SELECT AMANDA STUDENT QUEEN OF HOME COMING

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29.—For the second time in six months the student body of Ohio State university today spurned a galaxy of sorority-girl beauties and took a stenographer for its queen.

Miss Agnes Heskett, 22-year-old girl from Amanda, a senior in the College of Education who spends her afternoon taking dictation in a Columbus office supply store and accordingly was too busy to do any personal campaigning, defeated five sorority girls to be chosen homecoming queen yesterday in the most spirited campus election in the history of the university.

Sorority girls, many of them campus celebrities who had not heard of Miss Heskett two weeks ago, recalled regretfully that it was only last April that Wesley Fesler, All-American football player, turned his back on them and picked Miss Hazel Haur, a stenographer from his home town of Youngstown, for queen of the Junior Prom.

Miss Heskett, whose popularity sprung from a little group of Methodist students, grew until it included half a dozen sororities, 15 fraternities, all unaffiliated students and a majority of the College of law. She is a decided blonde, five feet, three inches tall and weighs 110 pounds.

City officials have no objections to innocent fun in connection with the celebration, they indicated. They are asking the cooperation of parents to assist in checking any practices that go outside the limits of innocent fun.

WEBER SCORES COOPER'S ACTS HERE TUESDAY

Candidate For State Senate Assails Failure of Man To Keep Promises.

RAPS RECORDS

Says State Business Left To Silver and Schorr.

C. A. Leist, chairman of the Democratic executive committee presided at a meeting Tuesday, at 7:30 p. m. of all three Democratic committees.

The principal speaker was August W. Weber, candidate for State Senator. Mr. Weber is a Columbus attorney, a graduate of O. S. U. law school and has practiced law in Columbus for 16 years. Mr. Weber stated that in his talks in this campaign, he has dealt mostly on the Cooper administration. Bringing to the committees assembled the things which in his opinion had been sadly neglected. "The thing which Myers Y. Cooper has been mostly criticized for is his failure to keep his promises made two years ago," said Weber. This has been caused mainly because he has seen fit to turn the reins of government of the State of Ohio over to his finance director, Mr. Silver, and to Mr. Schorr, both men from his home town, Cincinnati.

TALKS OF ROADS
"About the only thing which was done was some further building of roads. I talked to a contractor in Columbus, who told me that the only way it helped the people at all, was the labor end of and that that part only constituted 7 percent of it," continued the speaker.

"Our candidate for governor, George White, strongly advocates economy in government. This coming legislature will be one in which the honesty and integrity of the men constituting that body will be challenged as never before, because they will have to work out new taxation problems made mandatory by the adoption of the classification amendment."

He then spoke of the expense, mismanagement of the funds used in different departments of the state. He also stated that should any citizen of Ohio go to the state house and ask to examine certain records he would find them, but the average man must have along with him the particular code which reads these records. He asked if this was as it should be? For as a voter in the state of Ohio, no matter which administration be in power, every voter is entitled to go to the records of the State, if he should have occasion to examine such, and they should be kept in good English, so that he might examine them according to his need.

Each of the committees had a good representation, and were instructed by Mr. Leist regarding their work during the remainder of the campaign.

Big preparations are being made for the Democratic Rally Thursday at 1:30 p. m. in Memorial hall.

JUDGE TO PRESIDE AT DEM. MEETING

Judge I. N. Abernethy, one of the oldest Democrats in Pickaway-co, will be chairman at the Democratic rally to be held here Thursday at 1:30 p. m. when George White, candidate for governor, and his Democratic caravan give talks at Memorial Hall. One of the largest political crowds assembled in many years is expected to be present.

17 Members Of Family Are Divided 17 Years

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29.—A strange tale of how 17 members of a family have been separated for possibly 17 years was told today by Pearl C. Drenning, 20-year-old agricultural student at Ohio State university here.

Drenning said that he accidentally met a brother Harold, now 22, at the Columbus Union Station several days ago. Positive identity was established through a conversation about the Hocking-co children's home from which the boys ran away many years ago.

Other than a sister who now lives in Chicago neither of the brothers know the whereabouts of their father or the other separated brothers and sisters.

Their mother died when Pearl was about three years old. Their father is believed to be living in Circleville, but his full name is not known to his son. Another brother is thought to be living in Lancaster but positive identity has not been established.

Pearl will graduate from the college of Agriculture at Ohio State university in June this year and expects to devote the greater part of his time to locating the rest of his family. He is especially anxious to locate a twin brother, Earl.

Bank Officials, Minister Shopped By Six Day-light Robbers Tuesday.

TAKE ALL CASH

Escape In Blue Sedan, Heading Toward Hocking-Co.

BULLETIN

LANCASTER, O., Oct. 29.—Fingerprints found on a door of the Fairfield National Bank here may lead to the identity of members of the bandit sextet which held up the institution yesterday, slaying three persons and escaped with $10,861 in cash, it was indicated by authorities here today.

The fingerprints were placed under microscopic examination today in the belief that they may be checked with those of certain notorious robbers and their identity revealed.

LANCASTER, O., Oct. 29.—Search was extended throughout the state today for the six men who staged a sensational holding of the Fairfield National Bank here yesterday and, after assaulting the president, an employee and a customer of the bank, escaped with loot of $10,000.

The bandit sextet fled in a large blue sedan, which police said they believed was stolen recently from Roy W. Brismer of Dayton. The car was last seen speeding toward the Hocking Valley on a road south of New Lexington, according to reports received by county authorities.

The holdup took place during the noon hour yesterday. Three of the bandits, wielding weapons, entered the bank and commanded patrons and customers to lie down on the floor.

When H. S. Peters, president of the institution, resisted the command, one of the robbers struck him over the head with the butt of a revolver. Assistant Cashier M. S. Pond, 58, was also assaulted when he feigned ignorance of the combination of the bank's vault.

Rev. W. G. Seeman, pastor of the first M. E. Church, was struck a glancing blow on the side of the head when he was slow in obeying the robber's command that he lie down on the floor.

After subduing their victims, the robbers scooped up all cash lying in sight and fled outside to an automobile which was manned by three accomplices.

Word of the robbery of the bank was spread throughout the town and county immediately and a widespread search was started. The bandits succeeded in making good their get-away, however, in a maze of traffic.

National guardsmen aided in the hunt for the robbers as a dragnet was hastily thrown up around three counties.

DOCTORS ASK ONE HEALTHIER

Chamber of Commerce Hears Suggestion of Combination of City, County.

The suggestion that county and city health boards be combined into one received added impetus Tuesday evening at a Chamber of Commerce meeting when members of the county medical society were in charge of the program. Dr. Lloyd Jones, Dr. D. V. Courtwright, Dr. Howard Jones and Dr. H. C. Allen attended the meeting.

The appeal for a combined health board through which better results can be obtained for the betterment of county health was made by Dr. Courtwright who was made chairman of the evening. Dr. Courtwright explained the good that can be done by a combined board.

He was followed by Dr. Howard Jones who discussed state medicine as an evil which will sooner or later reach everyone. Dr. Jones told of physicians under state employ and of the menace this will mean when all doctors are placed upon salaries by the state, which he said is inevitable.

Tries To Escape, Meets
Death In Creek.

BOWERS IS CALLED

Virgil O'Brien, Harrisburg, Recovers Body Tuesday.

A verdict of accidental death was returned late Tuesday by Dr. C. E. Bowers, county coroner, over the body of John Patrick, 32, an inmate of the state school for the feeble-minded at Orient, who drowned when he attempted to escape from the school about 4 p. m. Monday. The body was recovered by Virgil O'Brien, Harrisburg, in Big Darby creek about 1-2 mile south of the institute.

Patrick was admitted to the school Nov. 13, 1929 and had shown discontent at times according to officials of the school. On Oct. 27, Monday, he tried to escape and was last seen as he approached the creek. The dead body was found Tuesday.

He was the son of John Patrick, 3853 W. 41st, Cleveland. The body is being held at the institute awaiting arrival of his father.

CELEBRATORS ARE WARNED

Police Department Not To Tolerate Halloween Damage To Property Here.

Destruction of property by Halloween celebrators will not be tolerated in Circleville this year, it was stated Wednesday by Mayor B. T. Hedges and Police Chief W. H. Warner, who have given police orders to be on the alert for this form of destruction.

City officials have no objections to innocent fun in connection with the celebration, they indicated. They are asking the cooperation of parents to assist in checking any practices that go outside the limits of innocent fun.

Many persons have already called police headquarters concerning property damage.

WEBER SCORES COOPER'S ACTS HERE TUESDAY

Candidate For State Senate
Assails Failure of Man To Keep Promises.

RAPS RECORDS

Silver and Schorr.

C. A. Leist, chairman of the Democratic executive committee presided at a meeting Tuesday, at 7:30 p. m. of all three Democratic committees.

The principal speaker was August W. Weber, candidate for State Senator. Mr. Weber is a Columbus attorney, a graduate of O. S. U. law school and has practiced law in Columbus for 16 years. Mr. Weber stated that in his talks in this campaign, he has dealt mostly on the Cooper administration. Bringing to the committees assembled the things which in his opinion had been sadly neglected. "The thing which Myers Y. Cooper has been mostly criticized for is his failure to keep his promises made two years ago," said Weber. This has been caused mainly because he has seen fit to turn the reins of government of the State of Ohio over to his finance director, Mr. Silver, and to Mr. Schorr, both men from his home town, Cincinnati.

TALKS OF ROADS

"About the only thing which was done was some further building of roads. I talked to a contractor in Columbus, who told me that the only way it helped the people at all, was the labor end of and that that part only constituted 7 percent of it," continued the speaker. "Our candidate for governor, George White, strongly advocates economy in government. This coming legislature will be one in which the honesty and integrity of the men constituting that body will be challenged as never before, because they will have to work out new taxation problems made mandatory by the adoption of the classification amendment."

He then spoke of the expense, mismanagement of the funds used in different departments of the state. He also stated that should any citizen of Ohio go to the state house and ask to examine certain records he would find them, but the average man must have along with him the particular code which reads these records. He asked if this was as it should be? For as a voter in the state of Ohio, no matter which administration be in power, every voter is entitled to go to the records of the State, if he should have occasion to examine such, and they should be kept in good English, so that he might examine them according to his need.

Each of the committees had a good representation, and were instructed by Mr. Leist regarding their work during the remainder of the campaign.

Big preparations are being made for the Democratic Rally Thursday at 1:30 p. m., in Memorial hall.

JUDGE TO PRESIDE AT DEM. MEETING

Judge I. N. Abernethy, one of the oldest Democrats in Pickaway, will be chairman at the Democratic rally to be held here Thursday at 1:30 p. m. when George White, candidate for governor, and his Democratic caravan give talks at Memorial Hall. One of the largest political crowds assembled in many years is expected to be present.

17 Members Of Family Are Divided 17 Years

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29.—A strange tale of how 17 members of a family have been separated for possibly 17 years was told today by Pearl C. Drenning, 20-year-old agricultural student at Ohio State university here.

Drenning said that he accidentally met a brother Harold, now 22, at the Columbus Union Station several days ago. Positive identity was established through a conversation about the Hocking-co children's home from which the boys ran away many years ago.

Other than a sister who now lives in Chicago neither of the brothers know the whereabouts of their father or the other separated brothers and sisters.

Their mother died when Pearl was about three years old. Their father is believed to be living in Circleville, but his full name is not known to his son. Another brother is thought to be living in Lancaster but positive identity has not been established.

Pearl will graduate from the college of Agriculture at Ohio State university in June this year and expects to devote the greater part of his time to locating the rest of his family. He is especially anxious to locate a twin brother, Earl.

Bank Officials, Minister Slugged By Six Day-light Robbers Tuesday.

TAKE ALL CASH

Escape In Blue Sedan, Heading Toward Hocking-Co.

BULLETIN

LANCASTER, O., Oct. 29.—Fingerprints found on a door of the Fairfield National Bank here may lead to the identity of members of the bandit sextet which held up the institution yesterday, slugged three persons and escaped with $10,861 in cash, it was intimated by authorities here today.

The finger prints were placed under microscopic examination today in the belief that they may be checked with those of certain notorious robbers and their identity revealed.

LANCASTER, O., Oct. 29.—Search was extended throughout the state today for the six men who staged a sensational holdup of the Fairfield National Bank here yesterday and, after assaulting the president, an employee and a customer of the bank, escaped with loot of $10,000.

The bandit sextet fled in a large blue sedan, which police said they believed was stolen recently from Roy W. Brismer of Dayton. The car was last seen speeding toward the Hocking Valley on a road south of New Lexington, according to reports received by county authorities.

The holdup took place during the noon hour yesterday. Three of the bandits, wielding weapons, entered the bank and commanded patrons and customers to lie down on the floor.

When H. B. Peters, president of the institution, resisted the command, one of the robbers struck him over the head with the butt of a revolver. Assistant Cashier M. S. Pond, 58, was also assaulted when he feigned ignorance of the combination of the bank's vault.

Rev. W. G. Seaman, pastor of the first M. E. Church, was struck a glancing blow on the side of the head when he was slow in obeying the robber's command that he lie down on the floor.

After subduing their victims, the robbers scooped up all cash lying in sight and fled outside to an automobile which was manned by three accomplices.

Word of the robbery of the bank was spread throughout the town and county immediately and a widespread search was started. The bandits succeeded in making good their get-away, however, in a matter of minutes.

National guardsmen aided in the hunt for the robbers as a dragnet was hastily thrown up around three counties.

DOCTORS ASK ONE HEAL THER

Chamber of Commerce Hears Suggestion of Combination of City, County.

The suggestion that county and city health boards be combined into one received added impetus Tuesday evening at a Chamber of Commerce meeting when members of the county medical society were in charge of the program. Dr. Lloyd Jones, Dr. D. V. Courtwright, Dr. Howard Jones and Dr. H. C. Allen attended the meeting.

The appeal for a combined health board through which better results can be obtained for the betterment of county health was made by Dr. Courtwright who was made chairman of the evening. Dr. Courtwright explained the good that can be done by a combined board.

He was followed by Dr. Howard Jones who discussed state medicine as an evil which will sooner or later reach everyone. Dr. Jones told of physicians under state employ and of the menace this will mean when all doctors are placed upon salaries by the state, which he said is inevitable.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER
(Second Term)

Election Nov. 4, 1930.

Anti-Saloon League of America has declared war upon politicians who straddle the wet and dry issue, thus joining the leading wet organizations in an effort to doom all "wobblers."

Announcement of this determination on the part of the Anti-Saloon League was made today by Superintendent J. Scott McBride, following the defection of at least two senators who had been regarded as nominally dry.

Agreeing that the present congressional campaign is drawing the line sharper on the prohibition issue, McBride said:

"We welcome the drawing of the line. It will get rid of the 'wobblers.'"

"A 'wobbler' is with a cause like ours when he is not needed and he is against us every time he is needed. We welcome the elimination of that kind of representatives in congress. We like to have congressmen with convictions."

"Experience has shown that any man who weakens one way or the other on this issue suffers defeat. Neither the wets nor the dries want him."

McBride recalled that some house members defeated in the primaries had refused to take a definite stand either with the wets or the dries. He minimized the declaration of Sen. Metcalf (R) of Rhode Island for repeal of the 18th amendment and the statement of Sen. Glenn (R) of Illinois that wet sentiment is gaining. The dries never claimed either, he said, adding that the dries supported Glenn because his opponent was an extreme wet.

McBride declared that Congress will still be overwhelmingly dry even though the wets make gains in the Nov. 4 election.

"Even if you grant every success the wets claim, there will still be 10 more dries in the senate than when the 18th amendment was submitted and at least 30 more dries in the house," he asserted.

"Most of this near rebellion against prohibition is confined to 15 states which were wet before the amendment was adopted."

These he listed as Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Illinois, Missouri, California, Nevada, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Louisiana and Montana. It is in these states, he charged, that the wets are confining their campaign.

Referring again to wet claims of election gains McBride said:

"If the wets do make gains it will be for other reasons than prohibition. Should Bulkeley be elected in Ohio it will not be because of reaction against prohibition but because of the industrial situation."

BUSINESS MEN ARE SUICIDES

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—Was the suicide of the two partners of the defunct Reilly, Brock and Company investment brokerage house due to a pre-arranged plan?

That was the knotty problem facing investigators today following the suicide yesterday of Sidney F. Tyler Brock, 46-year old surviving member of the firm. He shot himself to death in a mid-city apartment he had rented for the purpose. His senior partner, George K. Reilly ended his life with a pistol on Thursday on the grounds of his estate at Gladwynne.

Business worries drove both men to their acts, relatives believe. Reilly left three notes, the contents of which were not divulged. No notes were found on Brock's body.

NEGRO IS HELD FOR BOLD THEFT

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29.—One suspect was held by police today in connection with the daring hold-up and robbery of a restaurant in the heart of the business district here early Sunday morning. The lone masked bandit obtained $350 from the cash drawers.

The suspect is Henry Scott, negro, a former employee of the restaurant. It was said that the man entered the building through a trap door in the basement.

Harry Wilhelm, night clerk, was the only person in the restaurant when the robber entered and told him to "stick 'em up." The gunman then forced Wilhelm to the basement where he locked him in a vegetable refrigerator.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Oct. 29.—Premier Venizelos of Greece has arrived here to sign a treaty of commerce and friendship with Turkey. As Premier Venizelos is the first head of a Greek government to visit this country, the step was hailed as inaugurating a new era in Balkan diplomacy.

PARIS, Oct. 29.—Paris newspapers today expressed regret over the incident which befell John D. Rockefeller, Jr., when he arrived too late to visit the palace of Versailles recently and was turned away by the guards like any tourist. Rockefeller has given more than $1,500,000 for the restoration and preservation of the palace.

WHITE COLLAR MEN SHOW UP IN FOOD LINE

Correspondent Visits Salvation Army Headquarters; Learns Facts.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—"White collar" men are beginning to show up in the "bread lines" of the Bowery, the nation's "nerve center" of the unemployment problem.

A tour of this picturesque, mile-long thoroughfare by an International News Service reporter today, revealed this fact. All along the Bowery, with its gaudy shooting galleries, employment offices, pawn shops, knick knock stores and speakeasies, there could be seen a sizeable sprinkling of men with soiled white collars mingling with the bums, the "gaudy dandies" and the hoboes who habitually hibernate in the locality as winter nears.

Maybe times are a little hard and perhaps a "black winter" does loom for these men, but there is no undue pessimism—no especially dark faces. The rescue missions are tackling the problem with fortitude born of experience and with a certain amount of good cheer and optimism.

"Nobody is starving on the Bowery," said Lieut. Colonel Wallace Winchell, head of the Salvation Army Memorial hotel who, since 1890 has intimately known the Bowery and for the last ten years has lived and worked among its denizens.

Approximately 2,000 men are now walking the Bowery, according to Colonel Winchell's estimate. This number is moderately high and probably will be augmented as the weather grows colder. In one sense business is good in the neighborhood. The Grand Hotel, with its white tiled entrance, "rooms men only, 40c a night," has been filling up. Trade is active at the Comet, the Manhattan, the Palace and even at the Ritz White House where they charge 50 cents a night for a "flop."

"I was told today," said Colonel Winchell, "that many men have been sleeping in empty buildings. Others sleep outdoors, on brick piles. Lately some of the men have been afraid to sleep because others have stolen the clothing from their bodies as they slept."

A "buttermilk bar" is the latest innovation on the Bowery. It has been installed by Colonel Winchell at the Salvation Army Hotel. Buttermilk is sold at two cents per cup. Doughnuts cost one cent each. In the "bread line" downstairs soup and bread is free.

He said men get drinking buttermilk and stay away from the speakeasies that sell them "smoke" (poisonous liquor). They can get eight glasses of buttermilk for the price of one gulp of "hooch."

Colonel Winchell invited the International News Service correspondent to spiritual services which are held daily. About 300 men were in the audience. They were of a higher type than I had observed on the Bowery on a similar pilgrimage a year ago.

After services, Colonel Winchell

from the platform asked how many of the men had a good bed last night. About six hands went up.

"How many slept in speakeasies?" he asked.

Thirty hands went up.

"How many of you carried the banner (walked the streets) last night?"

More than half the men in the place raised their hands.

The population of India is 310,000,000. This almost equals the combined population of North America, South America and Africa.

ACID CONDITION

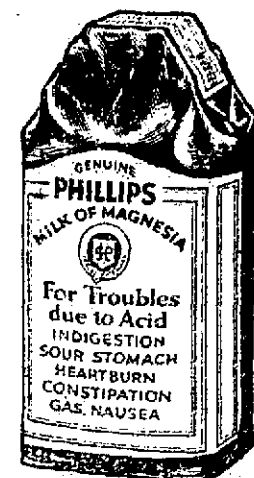

the common cause of pain and discomfort after eating --

GET RID of your dread of pain after eating. Eat without fear of "indigestion," sour stomach, disagreeable gas or headaches.

When your food ferments, "disagrees," lies like a lump in your stomach, it's a sign of too much acid. You need not resort to crude methods—take instead an anti-acid that will correct the condition. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

A spoonful of this pleasant-tasting, soothing fluid neutralizes many times its volume of acid. It restores the proper alkaline balance to an acid-soaked stomach and bowels—assists these organs to function as they should.

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is what you need when a bad breath, coated tongue, headaches, nausea or biliousness indicates an over-acid condition. Take a spoonful today and for several days and see how it sweetens the system. You won't be nearly so liable to colds or sickness. All drug stores—in 25c and 50c bottles.

NEGRO IS HELD FOR BOLD THEFT

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29.—One suspect was held by police today in connection with the daring hold-up and robbery of a restaurant in the heart of the business district here early Sunday morning. The lone masked bandit obtained $350 from the cash drawers.

The suspect is Henry Scott, negro, a former employe of the restaurant. It was said that the man entered the building through a trap door in the basement.

Harry Wilhelm, night clerk, was the only person in the restaurant when the robber entered and told him to "stick 'em up." The gangster then forced Wilhelm to the basement where he locked him in a vegetable refrigerator.

ISTANGUL, Turkey, Oct. 29.—Premier Venizelos of Greece has arrived here to sign a treaty of commerce and friendship with Turkey. As Premier Venizelos is the first head of a Greek government to visit this country, the step was hailed as inaugurating a new era in Balkan diplomacy.

PARIS, Oct. 29.—Paris newspapers today expressed regret over the incident which befell John D. Rockefeller, Jr., when he arrived too late to visit the palace of Versailles recently and was turned away by the guards like any tourist. Rockefeller has given more than $1,500,000 for the restoration and preservation of the palace.

WHITE COLLAR MEN SHOW UP IN FOOD LINE

Correspondent Visits Salvation Army Headquarters; Learn Facts.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—"White Collar" men are beginning to show up in the "bread lines" of the Bowery, the nation's "nerve center" of the unemployment problem.

A tour of this picturesque, mile-long thoroughfare by an International News Service reporter today, revealed this fact. All along the Bowery, with its gaudy shooting galleries, employment offices, pawn shops, knick knock stores and speakeasies, there could be seen a sizeable sprinkling of men with soiled white collars mingling with the bums, the "gaudy dancers" and the hoboes who habitually hibernate in the locality as winter nears.

Maybe times are a little hard and perhaps a "black winter" does loom for these men, but there is no undue pessimism—no especially dour faces. The rescue missions are tackling the problem with fortitude born of experience and with a certain amount of good cheer and optimism.

"Nobody is starving on the Bowery," said Lieut. Colonel Wallace Winchell, head of the Salvation Army Memorial hotel who, since 1890 has intimately known the Bowery and for the last ten years has lived and worked among its denizens.

Approximately 2,000 men are now walking the Bowery, according to Colonel Winchell's estimate. This number is moderately high and probably will be augmented as the weather grows colder. In one sense business is good in the neighborhood. The Grand Hotel, with its white tiled entrance, "rooms men only, 40c a night," has been filling up. Trade is active at the Comet, the Manhattan, the Palace and even at the Ritz White House where they charge 50 cents a night for a "flop."

"I was told today," said Colonel Winchell, "that many men have been sleeping in empty buildings. Others sleep outdoors, on brick piles. Lately some of the men have been afraid to sleep because others have stolen the clothing from their bodies as they slept."

A "buttermilk bar" is the latest innovation on the Bowery. It has been installed by Colonel Winchell at the Salvation Army Hotel. Buttermilk is sold at two cents per cup. Doughnuts cost one cent each. In the "bread line" downstairs soup and bread is free.

He said men get drinking buttermilk and stay away from the speakeasies that sell them "smoke" (poisonous liquor). They can get eight glasses of buttermilk for the price of one gulp of "hooch."

Colonel Winchell invited the International News Service correspondent to spiritual services which are held daily. About 300 men were in the audience. They were of a higher type than I had observed on the Bowery on a similar pilgrimage a year ago. After services, Colonel Winchell from the platform asked how many of the men had a good bed last night. About six hands went up.

"How many slept in speakeasies?" he asked.

Thirty hands went up.

"How many of you carried the

banner (walked the streets) last night?"

More than half the men in the place raised their hands.

The population of India is 310,000,000. This almost equals the combined population of North America, South America and Africa.

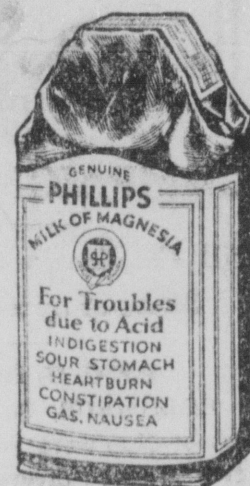

ACID CONDITION

the common cause of pain and discomfort after eating --

GET RID of your dread of pain after eating. Eat without fear of "indigestion," sour stomach, disagreeable gas or headaches. When your food ferments, "disagrees," lies like a lump in your stomach, it's a sign of too much acid. You need not resort to crude methods—take instead an anti-acid that will correct the condition. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

A spoonful of this pleasant-tasting, soothing fluid neutralizes many times its volume of acid. It restores the proper alkaline balance to an acid-soaked stomach and bowels—assists these organs to function as they should.

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is what you need when a bad breath, coated tongue, headaches, nausea or biliousness indicates an over-acid condition. Take a spoonful today and for several days and see how it sweetens the system. You won't be nearly so liable to acids or sickness. All drug stores—in 25c and 50c bottles.

Genuine Milk of Magnesia is always a liquid—never a tablet. Look for the name Phillips on the bottle.

Convalescence

CONVALESCENCE from a severe illness is usually a long, slow process. The patient is "well" in one sense, but not yet back to normal health and vigor.

The business illness of the past year has apparently reached about this stage. The crisis is past. The acute symptoms have abated and convalescence has commenced.

Individuals, convalescing, often feel more blue and depressed and discouraged than they did while the sickness was at its height. Something of the sort probably lies back of the continued mental depression of the public in regard to business recovery. Told that the worst was passed, the public expected the best immediately. Disappointed in this, the public plunged into deeper despair.

Pollyanna optimism isn't wanted here, but a sensible estimating of progress to date ought to stimulate hope and so help along the general recovery. There is definite evidence, according to an authoritative banking publication, "of increase in public consumption of merchandise, an increase in residential building, increased buying of basic commodities on the part of manufacturers, and complete exhaustion of inventories of many articles for which a renewed demand is being felt."

That is a fine beginning, and if everybody does what he can to keep the patient encouraged and to help him carry out the doctor's orders, there should be no relapse, but slow, steady progress toward health.

Those South American Republics may not be so much interested in constitutions, but they are certainly strong for declarations of independence.

Buy Now

THERE is about a period of prosperity or a season of depression a certain mass psychology and above the economic fact which are partly responsible. The timidity and undue rashness explained best on the ground of psychology. Therefore to end business depression it is first necessary to change public timidity into public timidity.

This is the theory behind the "buy now" campaigns now being organized throughout the country. It is thought that if the people once get back into the habit of buying, the end of the business slump won't be long in coming. As a stimulus to business the plan has great possibilities. Certainly nothing is to be gained in postponing the gratification of desires one can afford.

As the "buy now" plan is understood, there is no urging people to go into debt merely to buy. That would aggravate conditions and prolong the period of economic convalescence. The object is to encourage more spending for both necessities and luxuries by that supposedly large body of persons who have been hoarding their money in the expectation of lower prices or because of a panicky fear of prolonged hard times and possible unemployment. Their hoarding

THE CHASE

"JUDY" By Winifred Van Duzer

A WEEK aboard the S. S. Mohawk has changed Judith Archer from a serious-minded, unromantic school teacher into a carefree, pleasure-loving young woman. She receives the attentions of Kit Camp, the ship's radio operator, and Tris Millet, fascinating figure of mystery, while her mother is attracted by a Mr. Tennant. Shortly after reading of the robbery of the famous Ballard emeralds, Judy sees Tris talking with a scar-faced man, whom he previously denied knowing. Questioned regarding his work, Tris becomes vague. That night, while they are strolling on deck, a man attacks Tris. Tris tells Judy he was mistaken for someone else. Kit's expression when he sees Judy with Tris, makes Judy uncomfortable. The easy assurance of Kit annoys Judy and she refuses to go ashore with him. Disappointed when Tris says he is staying aboard at Montreal, Judy goes with Kit. Visiting Notre Dame, Judy is stunned to see Tris, deep in prayer.

CHAPTER XXIII

"SAVED the big treat for the last, Judy, my dear. You would never guess! Well, shall we walk a little? Going to the French town now. You must see the old houses—stairs running up outside—and signs all in French. A little corner of Paris—no, Bordeaux; you find America all over Paris these days. It's a city by itself, this French quarter. Even the children chatter French."

She said, "Yes—well," and she went at his side, seeing the picture of the boy kneeling in the Cathedral. What was the secret of Tris Millet? What sent him there to pray while everybody else laughed and was gay?

What sent the scar-faced man to watch him—lurking in the shadows? Something grim about the scar-faced man. Something relentless.

Tris had said he was not going ashore. It was plain now; he had wished to be alone. Judy had known dozens who were half ashamed to admit deep religious faith. Tris probably was one of these, a worldling with scant confidence in the world's consolations.

Once or twice she had thought him reckless and hard. This was when she had said something which seemed to draw the curtain over his eyes, when all the light went out of his smile and he was restless and unhappy. That, no doubt, was only the surface Tris. Why had she never thought of this before, that beneath the brave swagger was a boy disappointed and tired and lost?

Kit gave her arm a little shake, stooped over and cried "Hi!" into her ear and laughed when she jumped.

"Doesn't present company suit? Wandering off—where to, fair maid?"

She was troubled but this was not fair to Kit who was so eager for her good time. "Why don't the rivers mingle? You'd think they couldn't help it. They do make you think of selfish folks who won't give and take."

"Hi—married folks. Modern wives. Ones who go their own way. Call it living their own life. I hear. You know the ship's surgeon? That's his sort of wife, poor devil. She paints pictures or some silly thing and can't be bothered coming with him. Won't even be Mrs. Ship Surgeon but makes everybody call her Miss. About the only time they get together is when they're in a row. And the law calls that marriage!" he finished loudly.

"It's your idea," Judy began with sultry calmness. "That this woman should give up her painting, live in a ship's cabin, go trailing in the wake of her lord and master? Like—well, like the rivers. I suppose the Ottawa has some individuality of its own? Or would you just pick it up and lose it in the St. Lawrence—let the St. Lawrence gobble the other and swell up with pride? That's your idea of marriage, that the wife must be just a part of her husband—the little unimportant part?"

"Ah, Judy—and you so sweet! No old-fashioned notions in that pretty head? The old ideals?"

"Ideals! What ideals are you talking about, Kit Camp?"

"Very ancient ones, Judy, my dear." He quoted in a triumphant way, "Wives submit yourselves unto your own husbands. . . . For the husband is the head of the wife. . . ."

"Really—well, they say even Satan can quote Scripture." She was angry now, all the old antagonism prodding her. "St. Paul wouldn't have been so high there and mighty if he'd had a wife. Besides he said something about husbands loving their wives, didn't he? That a man should love his wife as himself. Lot of men do that nowadays—oh, my yes!"

"Some do," Kit's voice was grave. It made Judy feel all at once flippant and small—a midge before a mountain.

putting her in with his eager care. And now she discovered that she was not angry with him at all. That she felt as exultant and friendly as when they ran, laughing, across the pier—as if they never had argued about the river which did not mingle and marriage which absorbs the wife.

"Strange," her thought whispered. "I can't understand this. She settled back against his arms, waited in awed silence while premonition fastened in her thought. 'I never will understand it,' her thought went on. 'As long as I know Kit Camp—if it's years and years—he'll do things and say things to make me angry, but the anger will go like a puff of smoke in the wind. Of course, that's why I go on seeing him, because I do like him. He was right about this. I do like him. Lots. Even if he is snooty and superior.'"

She was quiet, almost humble when he grinned down at her, picked up her hand and held it in a merry, impersonal way.

He took her to Kerkulu's and Judy was thrilled by the gay, cosmopolitan crowd in the famous old French restaurant. And by the onion soup.

"Thought the soup would touch your bristling little heart, fair Judy; there's nothing like it anywhere in the world. From now on when people offer you their favorite food you'll say, 'Yes, it's nice but you ought to have a go at Kerkulu's onion soup.'"

They were lingering over "galette au jambon" with very black coffee when Peggy and Mr. Tennant came in, laughing and exuberant and so absorbed in each other that

Few People Escape the Penalty of Diet Errors

—Acute Gastritis Is a Common Result

While There Are Other Causes of Gastritis Wrong Eating Is Usually at the Root of It, Says Authority, Suggesting Treatment.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

HOW many persons there are who are afflicted with some form of digestive disorder? Their number is legion. Acute or chronic gastritis is a very disagreeable condition. It points to some gross errors of diet, to ingested bacterial or mineral poison, or to the toxin of some infectious disease.

Acute gastritis begins suddenly and unexpectedly with fullness and discomfort. It is really an acute inflammation of the mucous membrane lining of the stomach. Thick mucus covers the membrane and interferes with the normal action of the digestive juices. The material makes an ideal breeding-place for the germs of fermentation.

The walls of the stomach will absorb poisons as quickly as they will nourishing food. Fermentation follows, and with this condition there is a great accumulation of gas which causes pain and swelling.

The patient is troubled with headache and fever, thirst and chilliness. There may be nausea and vomiting or attempts to vomit. Very often a sour or bitter fluid is ejected. There are palpitation of the heart, cold sweats and prostration. There may be a jaundiced condition and, in this case, the vomited material is a mixture of blood, mucus and bile. The tongue is coated and there are fever sores on the lips. The skin is apt to itch intolerably.

Depending upon the physical condition of the patient, and the severity of the attack, the symptoms may last for a day and a night. In other cases they continue for several days. Gastritis should not be neglected, for it may become chronic. Every case of chronic gastritis is difficult to overcome.

The causes of this disease are many. First of all, it may come from a general impoverished condition, due to unsuitable food. It may result from eating stale or bad food. It may be due to impairment of the digestive apparatus from other causes, such as overeating and over-indulgence in alcoholic liquors. On the other hand, it may be secondary to a disease of the heart, lungs or kidneys, or to fevers.

If the source of the trouble is wrong diet or some bacterial or mineral poisoning of the system, there should be a thorough washing of the stomach. A large quantity of water should be used with a little bit of carbonate of soda. This will remove food remnants and mucus and if the attack is mild, recovery should be quick.

When the stomach has been thoroughly emptied, the colon should receive irrigation. It is well to take a dose of castor oil or some saline laxative for further cleaning out of the bowels.

During the attack even the drinking-water should be restricted. The thirst may be appeased by taking cracked ice or small amounts of hot water. The patient should be kept warm in bed.

Feeding may be resumed after a day or two and a soft, bland, non-irritating diet be given for a week or ten days. Milk, milk toast, dry toast, soft-boiled or poached eggs, cereals with cream, broths, fruit juices, baked apple, rice or tapioca pudding, cup custard and tender meat may be given. All coarser foods should be omitted in the diet for a few weeks.

The stomach recuperates quickly when given a rest, so that it is best not to take food for twenty-four to forty-eight hours. If no food is given, with such a period of rest, and the original cause of the attack removed, the stomach condition disappears quickly.

Theatres

AT THE METROPOLITAN

"Africa Speaks," which comes to the Metropolitan theatre on Wednesday is a graphic motion picture and sound record of a trip taken by Paul L. Hoefer through the hitherto unexplored regions of Africa.

Hoefer, who represented the Colorado African expedition, started inland from Lagos on the Atlantic Ocean. His objective was Mombassa on the Indian Ocean, a route which necessitated his penetrating the heart of equatorial Africa.

As the expedition sped along the roads, herds of wildebeest, lion, zebu and tommlies were encountered. Such gorgeous bits of natural beauty as the Ripon Falls, source of the Victoria Nile, were photographed by Hoefer's cameramen, while at one point the expedition was loaded on an old steamer and floated down the ancient Egyptian river.

AT THE CLIFTONA

"The Mighty," "Street of Chance," "The Texan," and now "For the Defense." That's Director John Cromwell's hit-making record for Paramount during the past few months. George Bancroft, Gary Cooper and William Powell, twice, are the stars who took Cromwell's direction in those four pictures.

Cromwell is an able actor himself, and, for this reason, he is quick to sense the possibilities of the players he is directing. He came to the screen with a background of stage acting and directing, and, in his brief film career, has ably demonstrated the value of his training.

"For the Defense" which will show at the Cliftona theatre, starting Wednesday for two days, is his latest picture. William Powell is the star and Kay Francis, who played Powell's wife in "Street of Chance," is here cast as his sweetheart.

AT THE GRAND

"The Second Floor Mystery," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production adapted from Earl Derr Biggers' novel, "The Agony Column," comes to the Grand theatre Wednesday.

A new screen team is created in this uniquely amusing and thrilling picture. Grant Withers and Loreta Young, the youthful screen favorite who recently eloped by airplane, appear together in the feature roles in the story. London provided the locale.

H. B. Warner, Clare McDowell, Sidney Bracy, Crauford Kent, John Loder, Claude King and Judith Vosell make up the supporting cast. Roy Del Ruth, who directed "The Terror," another mystery story, and "Gold Diggers of Broadway," directed "The Second Floor Mystery."

Nineteen years ago, C. W. Martin, Pennsylvania Railroad gang foreman at Columbus, O., carved his name and the date, 1911, on the back of a land turtle on his uncle's farm near Hopewell, Ohio. MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE SHOW GAINS IN 1929

Figures Released by Department of Commerce Show Comparisons.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.—The Department of Commerce announces that, according to the returns received, there were 1,232,569 marriages performed in the United States during the year 1929, as compared with 1,182,497 in 1928. These figures represent an increase of 50,062 marriages or 4.2 per cent. There was a decrease of 1.5 per cent from 1927 to 1928. During the year 1929, there were 201,475 divorces granted in the United States, as compared with 195,939 in 1928, representing an increase of 5,536 or 2.8 per cent. There were 4,400 marriages annulled in 1929, as compared with 4,237 in 1928. The estimated population of continental United States on July 1, 1929, was 121,455,000, and on July 1, 1928, 119,798,000. On the basis of these estimates the number of marriages per 1,000 of the population was 10.1 in 1929, as against 9.9 in 1928; and the number of divorces per 1,000 of the population was 1.66 in 1929, as against 1.64 in 1928. While the net increase in the number of marriages performed in the country as a whole was 4.2 per cent, the relative change in the different States ranged from a decrease of 17.2 per cent in Texas to increases of 37.5 per cent in Nevada and New Mexico. (The increase in Nevada, as well as the increase in Arizona, is due largely to a change in the marriage law of California requiring 3 days notice to be given before the issuance of a license, which law became effective July 29, 1927, while the increases in New Mexico and Oklahoma are due largely to a similar law effective in Texas June 13, 1929. Similarly, the decreases shown by Tennessee and North Carolina are due in part to changes in the marriage laws, effective July 1, 1929. Five days notice is required prior to the issuance of a license to all parties in Tennessee and to those under 21 years of age in North Carolina.) The rate of marriages per 1,000 of the population, ranged from 5.2 in Delaware and 6.0 in North Carolina, to 17.3 in Arizona and 63.7

in Nevada. In general, the changes in the number of marriages per 1,000 of the population, form a more satisfactory index of the trend with regard to marriage in the several States than do the actual number of marriages, because they take account of differences in the rate of increase in the general population. Because of numerous requests for this information, the relative number of marriages to each divorce has been computed. In 1929, for the United States as a whole, 6.1 marriages for each divorce were reported, as against 6.0 in 1928. The District of Columbia and New York State, each having but one cause for absolute divorce, reported 49.0 and 23.6, respectively, while the rates in the other States ranged from 13.3 marriages to each divorce in Georgia to 2.3 marriages to each divorce in Nevada. The changes in the various States as regards the number of divorces compared with the year 1928, ranged from decreases of 5.9 per cent in Delaware and Wyoming to increases of 13.9 per cent in the District of Columbia and 21.7 per cent in North Dakota. The ratio of divorces per 1,000 of the population in the individual States in 1929 ranged from 0.24 in the District of Columbia and 0.41 in New York to 3.49 in Oklahoma and 28.14 in Nevada.

TO MOVE TROOPS FROM NICARAGUA

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The administration's economy drive may effect the virtual withdrawal of American marines from Nicaragua, a move which all the appeals of a powerful group in congress has failed to accomplish. Maj. Gen. Ben H. Fuller, marine corps commandant, Secretary of State Stimson and other government officials recently spent several hours in conference studying the matter. Afterwards Stimson announced plans were on foot designed to bring some marines home, at least.

In addition to those Stimson planned to relieve of Nicaraguan assignment, the return of 219 officers to this country in December is a certainty. They were sent down in August to assist in supervising the elections in November. When these are over they will return.

Increasing confidence in the Nicaraguan government to take care of itself, apparently, has brought officials here to the belief that more marines may be safely evacuated from the little country.

Whether this will mean the withdrawal of all the forces maintained there or the slashing of America's Nicaraguan occupation forces to a skeleton basis has not been determined.

WOULD ALTER TYPEWRITERS

Federal Department Would Guard Against Preparation of Bad Documents.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Slight changes should be made by manufacturers in the type of typewriters every five years as a guard against the preparation of false documents, experts at the U. S. bureau of standards declared today.

Knowledge has come to the bureau that numerous documents have been declared fraudulent because they were written on typewriting machines that did not carry a certain style of type before a definite known date.

"It would no doubt contribute to the interests of justice if the various typewriter manufacturers would make slight changes from time to time, perhaps once in five years," an official said.

"This would mark a definite date in the typewriting of that particular machine. It is understood that most typewriter manufacturers now make type by the place system, and changes can be effected without a sacrifice of material and at small cost."

MAKE CHANGES
Some manufacturers, the bureau was informed, have made these changes in the process of improving machines and, in some instances, for the definite purpose of marking a date. It can easily be understood that a change in even one character in an inconspicuous part would accomplish the purpose, according to experts.

The bureau of standards offered to cooperate in connection with this matter in any way that is practical that will contribute to the interests of justice, an official declared.

He added:
"If, when changes are made, specimens properly authenticated are deposited with the bureau, they will be dated and put on file and made available in photographic form for future use."

"The bureau cannot undertake to enter into any litigation except in cases when the interests of the government are involved, but will simply be a custodian for certain reference material that may be supplied. The bureau will be glad to confer with any typewriter manufacturer and furnish suggestions and details regarding this matter."

Typewritten material has been found of importance in criminal as well as civil actions. In the Leopold-Loeb murder of Bobby Franks in Chicago, a letter written to the victims' father on a portable typewriter was later traced to a machine owned by one of the slayers. In this case the date of the typewriter's manufacturer did not play a part—it was rather the peculiarities of touch of different individuals writing on the same machine may be distinguished by an expert.

Tigers Meet Westerville

The last chance of Circleville football fans to see their favorites in action on their home lot will be afforded Thursday at 3 p. m., when Westerville's fast aggregation comes here. The Tigers yet have three games on their schedule but the last two with Marysville and Granville are played on foreign lots.

Westerville is coming here with plenty of fight, that's sure, for last week Granville's team held the Ballenger-men to a scoreless tie at Granville and spoiled the prestige of the gridders from the "home of prohibition" not a little bit. Westerville was favored quite a lot to take this tilt with ease.

And if Coach Pete Herberholz' Red and Black warriors can get out there and fight like they really know how, these same Westerville lads who at times verge on that well-known thing, cockiness, may go back to their home town on the short end of another game. These Tiger lads, who play their final game before a home crowd, have been practicing mighty hard and with the squad in good condition with the exception of Dutch Hoffman, tough tackle and half-back, who suffered a kicked knee against Bexley. Hoffman has been forced to leave the squad.

Gaines Hill is suffering from a bruised hand but no little thing like a hand is going to keep him out of the fray.

The Tigers want this game. That means quite a lot to a bunch of high school football players. And if fighting means anything in the outcome of a contest, they're going out after it.

Rodney Ross, Jake Snuffer and Leo Uridil will handle the game.

On next Friday the Tiger outfit travels to Marysville and a week later closes its season at Granville.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The biggest rationalization scheme within the British mining industry has been decided upon by coal owners meeting in Manchester, who have solved a plan to amalgamate all the coal mines in the Cheshire and Lancashire areas, which produce about 18,000,000 tons yearly.

SEVILLE, Oct. 29.—Five hundred students of Seville University were on strike today in protest against operation of Spanish Universities under a new government plan. Classroom doors and windows were broken when the students preceded their strike with a riotous demonstration.

THEIR LAST "HOMECOMING"!

The above sextet of Ohio State gridiron stalwarts will take part in their third and last homecoming game when the Bucks take on Wisconsin at the Stadium November 1st. All are Seniors and in their last year of competition.

Although pictured as a ball carrier, Feseler is back at his old position, right end, where he gained All-American honors in 1928 and '29. He is a Youngstown boy. Richard Larkins holds down the other end and hails from East Liverpool, while Russell Taylor and Robert Horn are both back of the line. Taylor is a halfback from Sandusky while Horn is a Columbus man and plays at fullback when Feseler is on the line.

Sam Selby, West Middletown, has been a bulwark at guard for three years while Bill Griffith, Cleveland husky, is one of the best tackles in the Big Ten.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 29.—Archduke Otto, pretender to the Hungarian throne, has decided that the time is not yet propitious for a coup d'etat, it was stated today by the Budapest newspaper Reggeli Ujsag. Otto will issue a proclamation outlining his position on Nov. 20, when he comes of age, the newspaper said.

Newman is called a second Benny Friedman, who assisted in coaching at Yale this fall, thinks Booth is fit to rank with the all-time immortals of the gridiron. Friedman says that Booth has that knack of passing a ball with what the former Michigan ace calls the "feathery touch." The pass that travels "like a rifle bullet" is rarely used because it is too difficult to catch and Booth, according to Friedman, starts in throwing the ball so it swiftly "floats" into the catcher's hands.

ALL SECTIONS PRODUCE FINE BALL TOTERS

Booth, Savoldi, Roberts, Kelly, Bausch and Newman Rated By Eastern Scribes.

By COPELAND C. BURG
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Perhaps not since the gold-gilded days of the galloping ghost of Illinois, Red Grange, has there been spread under the campus canopy such a galaxy of great ball carriers as during this 1930 football season.

Albie Booth of Yale, "Jack, the Ripper" Roberts of Georgia, Jim Bausch of Kansas, Hank Bruder of Northwestern, Johnny Sisk of Marquette, "Shipwreck" Kelley of Kentucky, Joe Savoldi of Notre Dame and Harry Newman, Michigan are among the outstanding eliminators of space as football turns the corner this Saturday for the home stretch.

Comparisons have the same odium as onions in ice cream but one can't help registering that Booth alone approaches Grange and even so he lacks most of the dash and color that made the Wheaton, Ill. youth sure fire in catching the nation's fancy. In the first place Booth isn't a college ice man, a qualification that had a ringing appeal for Grange.

Many critics of Booth point out that if he were playing with a small school such as Williams in the east or Pomona on the west coast he wouldn't be rated at all. Quite so, but that's just the point.

Men like Booth and Savoldi get the supreme test every Saturday and when they come through against most of the outstanding teams in the country they naturally must rate at the top of the list.

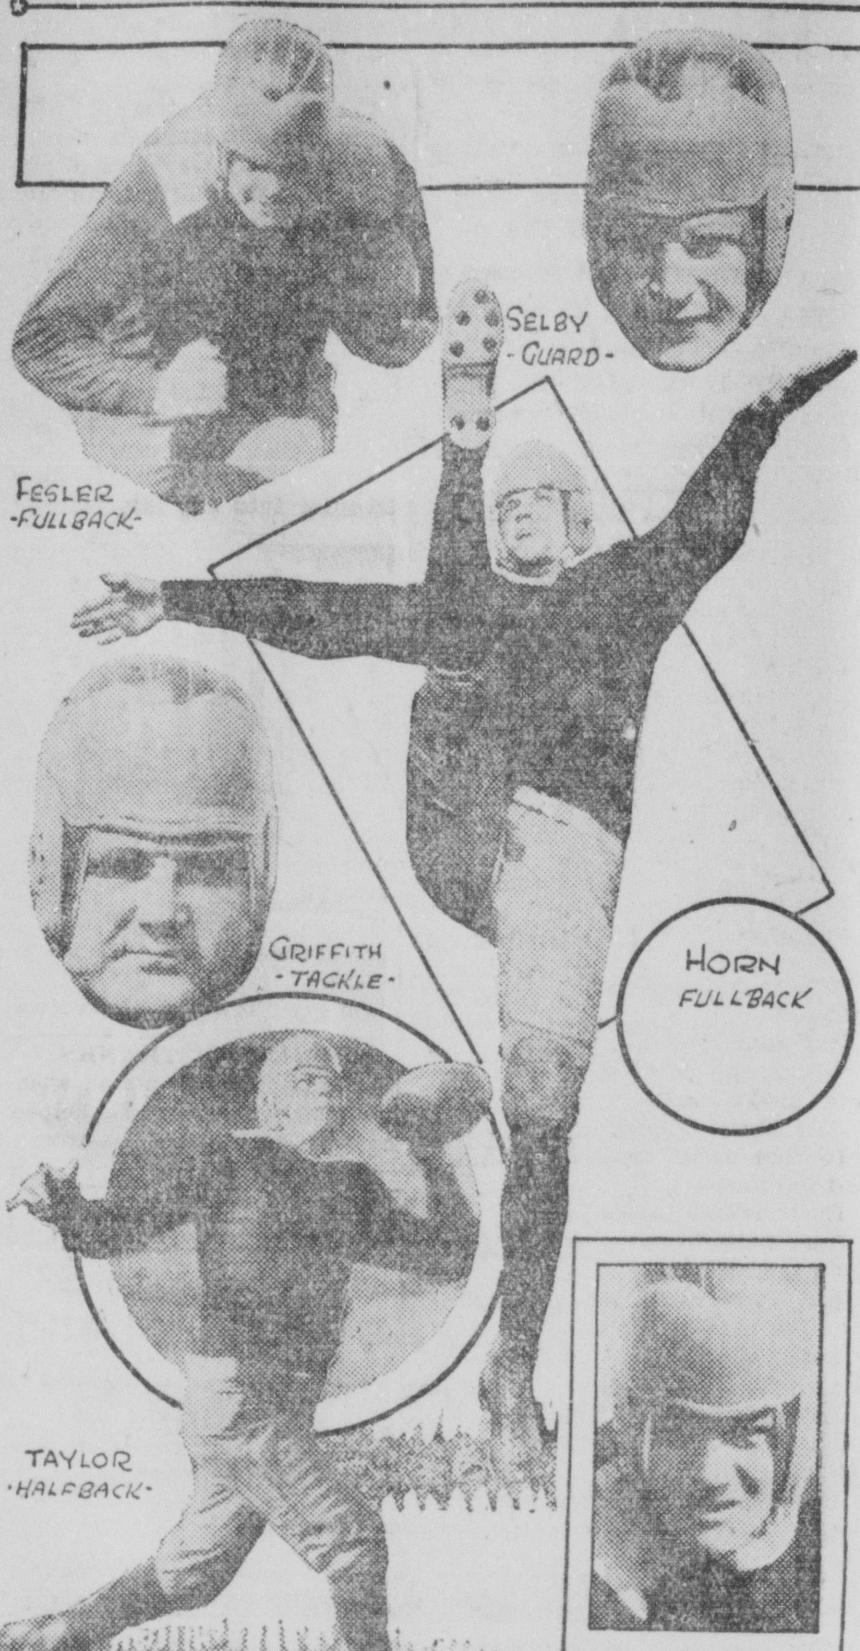

This week-end the east gets a chance to see a highly touted western back. He is Jim Bausch of Kansas, classed as the best in the west and heralded as one of the best ball carriers ever turned out by the plains country. Kansas plays Pennsylvania in Philadelphia and the game will be a severe test for Bausch for Penn has moulded rapidly since its defeat by Wisconsin early in the season.

Roberts, called the best back in the south, where there are some mighty power houses this fall, leads the nation's scorers with a total of 72 points. Georgia, too, has met some of the strong teams this season, including Yale, North Carolina and Auburn. Roberts is a versatile threat, hitting the line for gains as well as reeling off sparkling end runs in the fashion of Savoldi.

At Marquette University in Milwaukee they call Sisk the "big train." He is a members of Marquette's sensational relay team and has scored touchdowns this fall in records runs of 65, 85 and 88 yards. Kelly of Kentucky is like Sisk and there's a potential touchdown every time he gets his hand on the ball. He had the lemon four times in his first varsity game and scored three touchdowns.

Northwestern's star will probably meet up with plenty of opposition this Saturday as the purple engages Minnesota. The Gophers have progressed since their early fall smash down by Vanderbilt. Like Booth, Bruder is as conspicuous as an albino in Harlem and suffers the same handicap of having every move spotlighted.

Newman is called a second Benny Friedman, who assisted in coaching at Yale this fall, thinks Booth is fit to rank with the all-time immortals or the gridiron. Thus do we walk with her and keep unbroken

The band which nature gives, Thinking that our remembrance though unspoken

May reach her where she lives.

Not as a child shall we again behold her

For when with rapture wild In our embraces we again unfold her

She will not be a child. But a fair maiden in her Father's mansion,

Clothed with celestial grace; And beautiful with all the soul's expansion

Shall we behold her face.

And though at times, impetuous with emotion

And anguish long suppressed, The swelling heart heaves moaning like the ocean,

That cannot be at rest.- We will be patient and assuage the feeling

We may not wholly stay; By silence sanctifying, not concealing,

The grief that must have way."

OBITUARY

Chorus Evelyn, daughter of Samuel and Lilian Hall Pontious, was born at their home near Kingston on March 13, 1917 and departed this life at the Chillicothe hospital on October 15, 1930, aged 13 years, 7 months, and 2 days.

From early childhood she attended the M. E. Sunday School and took part in all its activities. She had attained the eighth grade in school and was recognized by her teachers and classmates as the real leader in her class.

She was an unusual child, very precocious and bright, who made friends of all that came near her; not selfish in any degree but desirous of sharing her joys and possessions with others. Obedience and great love were given by her to her parents, who, with the grandfather, Mr. Adam Pontious and grandmother, Mrs. Pearl Hall and hosts of relatives and friends are left to mourn so great a loss.

Let us think of her in this way: "She is not dead-the child of our affection,-

But gone into that school Where she no longer needs our poor protection,

And Christ himself doth rule. In that great cloister's stillness and seclusion

By guardian angels led, Safe from temptation, safe from sin's pollution

She lives whom we call dead.

Day after day we think what she is doing

In those bright realms of air; Year after year her tender steps pursuing,

Behold her grown more fair.

Islands in Mississippi

There are 717 islands in the Mississippi river between its source and the mouth of the Red river. Below this point, 200 miles from the Gulf, there are only three islands.

Not as a child shall we again behold her

For when with rapture wild In our embraces we again unfold her

She will not be a child. But a fair maiden in her Father's mansion,

Clothed with celestial grace; And beautiful with all the soul's expansion

Shall we behold her face.

And though at times, impetuous with emotion

And anguish long suppressed, The swelling heart heaves moaning like the ocean,

That cannot be at rest.- We will be patient and assuage the feeling

We may not wholly stay; By silence sanctifying, not concealing,

The grief that must have way."

OBITUARY

Chlorus Evelyn, daughter of Samuel and Lillian Hall Pontious, was born at their home near Kings-ton on March 13, 1917 and departed this life at the Chillicothe hospital on October 15, 1930, aged 13 years, 7 months, and 2 days.

From early childhood she attended the M. E. Sunday School and took part in all its activities. She had attained the eighth grade in school and was recognized by her teachers and classmates as the real leader in her class.

She was an unusual child, very precocious and bright, who made friends of all that came near her; not selfish in any degree but desirous of sharing her joys and possessions with others. Obedience and great love were given by her to her parents, who, with the grandfather Mr. Adam Pontious and grandmother, Mrs. Pearl Hall and hosts of relatives and friends are left to mourn so great a loss.

Let us think of her in this way:

"She is not dead—the child of our affection,—

But gone into that school

Where she no longer needs our poor protection,

And Christ himself doth rule.

In that great cloister's stillness and seclusion

By guardian angels led,

Safe from temptation, safe from sin's pollution,

She lives whom we call dead.

Day after day we think what she is doing

In those bright realms of air;

Year after year her tender steps pursuing,

Behold her grown more fair.

Thus do we walk with her and keep unbroken

The band which nature gives,

Thinking that our remembrance though unspoken

May reach her where she lives.

Not as a child shall we again behold her

For when with rapture wild In our embraces we again unfold her

She will not be a child.

But a fair maiden in her Father's mansion,

Clothed with celestial grace;

And beautiful with all the soul's expansion

Shall we behold her face.

And though at times, impetuous with emotion

And anguish long suppressed,

The swelling heart heaves moaning like the ocean,

That cannot be at rest,—

We will be patient and assuage the feeling

We may not wholly stay;

By silence sanctifying, not concealing,

The grief that must have way."

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Pontious wish to thank all who so kindly helped in any way during their sorrow.
